

Orofacial Myology: The Missing Link

Are muscles impacting your patient results?

SPEAKER: Sandra R Coulson,
MS, ST, Ed, COM

Course Description

Take a dive into the world of Orofacial Myology (OM) and learn about the successes of Orofacial Myofunctional Therapy (OMT). Come learn why the field is rapidly growing! Join our engaging class and learn from the best, with 54 years of experience! You will learn how therapy for orofacial musculature improves muscle tonicity and activity throughout the whole body, plus all of the many benefits that result because of such changes. OM is the establishment of correct functional activities of the tongue, lips and jaw, so that normal growth and development may progress in a stable, homeostatic environment. Learn what to look for in your patients to better be able to retain treatment success.

Featured Speaker

Sandra Coulson is a compassionate educator, speaker, inventor and therapist. In 1969, she opened her private practice, Coulson & Associates in Denver. She founded The Coulson Institute of Orofacial Myology in 2003. Sandra has taught and practiced locally, nationally and internationally. She has trained thousands of therapists globally through her courses and has had an impact on countless people. Sandra believes that proper facial and tongue muscle function can change people's lives and she has observed this while treating her own patients. Her success and her passion for creating positive change through Orofacial Myofunctional Therapy drives her desire to continue to practice and pass along her knowledge she has accumulated through her years of experience.
